CRAYOLA EYE COLOURS

This season is all about a rainbow of eye colours; from neon orange at Self Portrait to liquid gold at Lutz Huelle and two-tone pink at Matty Bovan.

"Colour has been essential in lifting our moods," says make-up artist Caroline Barnes. "It makes a statement and brings out the artistic flare in all of us."

The simplest way to join this trend is with eyeliner, Caroline says. "Kohl is the easiest liner to apply and the colours are endless, simply applied inside the waterline or you can go for a liquid version and create winged shapes."

Remember to keep the rest of the look minimal, though. "Otherwise it will look too theatrical. Think flawless skin, a few coats of mascara, groomed brows and balmy lips."

LUXE LASHES

Marc Jacobs, Versace and Brandon Maxwell all went XXL with their models' lashes this season. To get lashes this long and voluminous takes work; lots of light layers of mascara, a lash comb to separate each lash and an eyelash curler for lots of shape and definition.

"My top tip is to heat the lash curler with a hairdryer for a tighter curl – just make sure it cools down enough before you use it," says Caroline, whose secret weapon is Max Factor 2000 Calorie Dramatic Volume Mascara, £9.99, from boots.com. "It lengthens and thickens but the best bit is it dispenses the mascara onto lashes lightly and evenly."

DOTTY NAILS

Polka-dot nails popped up at Olivia Rubin, Rixo and Simone Rocha, and we're dotty for the design. "This is so easy to re-create," says celebrity manicurist Kate Williamson. "After a base coat, choose the main colour, always making sure there's enough of a contrast between the shades." Start by applying two coats of colour, allowing five minutes for it to dry, so the dots don't bleed into the base colour. "Once touch-dry, sporadically or in uniform create a dot pattern, either using a dotting tool, the end of a thin make-up brush, or for an even more delicate dot, a cocktail stick." After five minutes, seal with a super-glossy topcoat.

The nail shape of the season? "Oval. Short or long, it is universally flattering. It elongates the fingers and generally nails grow better with this shape as there are no edges to catch and break."
